

In a round robin tournament there were $n \geq 2$ players. Each player played once against every other player and there were no ties. Prove that there is at least one player P with the following property:

For any other player Q , either P beat Q or P beat someone who beat Q .