

We are given n points arranged around a circle. Chords are drawn connecting each pair of points. If no three chords intersect in a point, then how many points of intersection are there inside of the circle?